COLLECTOR'S ITEMS for CHRISTMAS

That is, you'll want to collect one of each of these for your own collection. There is nothing as necessary for an orchid collection as VARIETY. More and more of you have come to appreciate our wide selection of rare and unusual orchids which we have garnered from far corners of the world. To connoisseurs in such matters we recommend without qualification the new-comers and old stand-bys listed below.

STANHOPEA WARDII "DRAGON'S HEAD" ORCHID In baskets. Flowers 4-4½", 2 to 6 per stem, pendant from the roots — must be in basket — blooms come out through bottom — looks like Dragon's head with snout, teeth, eyes and ears — light yellow speckled brown. Fall and winter. Small blooming size$7.50

EPIDENDRUM ATROPURPUREUM Exotic and stunning. One of the showiest of the Epidendrums. 2½-3", many on a stem, tall and arching, deep mahogany brown s & p's, twisted and waxy; bright lilac-rose lip — lip is large and spreading — Looks like small Japanese dancer. Plants: newly imported, very nice plants, large & plump. Old leaves somewhat bruised & broken but are well established now. 4-7" pots $7.50-$12.50

BRASSIA MACULATA Newly collected, leaves on front bulbs only, new growths well started, will bloom this year, with arching sprays of long spidery flowers of chartreuse barred and spotted chestnut brown. Very rare and exotic, always causes comment. 4½" pot$7.98

ONCIDIUM CARTHAGINENSE Newly imported but well established. Large heavy, leathery leaves of dark green heavily spotted reddish brown. Flowers on long sprays up to 6 or 8 ft. with hundreds of 1" pink & lavender "Dancing Girl" flowers. 5" pots$12.98

BRASSAVOLA DIGBYANA Newly imported and established, plants "look different" — have unusual "greyish-powdery" growth on leaves and bulbs. Flower is fabulous 5-7" clear green in color with an immense feathery cut fringed lip. 1-2 lead — 5" pot$15.00

COELOGYNE CRISTATA A dwarf plant, deciduous, likes slightly cool growing conditions but can stand warm temperatures too. Fat bulbs size of a pecan with two short (3-4") leaves on each. Flowers glistening white about 1½" in diameter on lateral spray. 4" pot$8.98

Lc. KENCOLOR (Lc KENOSHA X C. BICOLOR) Lovely cluster cattleyas in a beautiful range of colors from pale lemon thru chartreuse, yellows, apricots and peach tones—all with bright lilac-lavender cut lips, up to 10 on a stem about 4" in diameter, in fir bark. One lead$15 and $17.50 Large two lead$25.00

BRASSAVOLA CORDATA Small white fragrant flowers 12 or more on short spikes, lip porcelain white heart shaped. Large strong plants. 4½" pots 2-4 leads$9.50

VANDA HERZIANA Very floriferous Vanda. Blooms 3-8 times a year, flowers 3-4½" in diameter, background light lavender with spots of darker blue, lavender or wine. Last up to 6 weeks. Plants vigorous, willing growers and bloomers. Strap leaves

C. PITTIANA (D. Dowiana x C. granulosa) Charming. Distinctive. Form and Color different & fascinating. Lip spade shaped, not tubular. Colors range through all shades of yellow, bronze, and brown to deep mahogany, with crimson lip. 2-8 flowers per stem 4½-5", summer, fall. Plants naturally tall and slender, bifoliate leaves, somewhat twisted and ribbed. 4½-7" pots Mature 1 lead$25.00
Dark brown mahogany, selected ... 40.00

DENDROBIUM NOBILE HYBRIDS Extra large Nobile type flowers, white and extra dark purple 3-4" in diameter, all named but only a few each of many different crosses. Husky, vigorous plants. Very willing growers. Spring. Flowers last several weeks. Blooming size plants$15.00
Gorgeous large plants$25.00-50.00

ODONTOGLOSSUM CITROSMUM Just a few of these lovely and rare orchids, very large and robust-bulbs 3 to 6" high. Blooms from base of bulbs—stems pendulous—15 to 30 flowers—large, round, fragrant, S & P's white or tinted—rose and yellow lip—likes lots of sun and cool growing conditions. Spring. In fir bark. $10.00 & $15.00.

(CATTLEYA GRANULOSA X LC. G. S. BALL) A very rare and unusual cluster type orchid of heavy texture. Amazing color range from yellow through deep plum-red. Conversation piece. Blooming size$25.00
